Peter lived in a small town in England. He always stays in England for holidays, but then last year he thought, "I've never been outside this country. All my friends go to Spain, and they like it very much, so this year I'm going to go there too." First, he went to Madrid and stayed in a small hotel for a few days. In the first morning, he went out for a walk. In England people drive on the left, but in Spain they drive on the right, Peter forgot about this, and while he was crossing a busy street, a bicycle knocked him down. Peter lay on the ground for a few seconds and then he sat up and said "Where am I?" An old man was selling maps at the side of the street, and he at once came to Peter and said "Map of the city, sir?"
