Whenever I remember the early days of my English language learning, I feel how important to me it was to speak English no matter how difficult it might be.

To be honest, at the beginning of learning English, I had difficulty making English sentences correctly. Besides, I couldn't pronounce or understand English words well. Therefore, I enrolled in an English institute to improve both my speaking and listening comprehension.

Moreover, I spent two hours a day listening to English songs, watching movies with English subtitles and reading short stories. After a while, my English began improving greatly and I really found it was easy to communicate with people who could speak English very well.

Finally, I should mention that according to my experience, everyone can learn English easily even if/ s/he is not young. S/he should just try hard and believe in himself or herself.
