Reading passage

Read The passage carefully and answer the questions.

Everyone interested in painting has heard the name of Spanish painter, Picasso. Pablo Ruiz Picasso was the favorite child of his family. He was the only boy among a lot of girl cousins. That was enough to make him important, but his father liked him especially because it was clear that Pablo was going to be an artist.

When he was small, he spent hours making pretty drawings of animals and people. If his mother sent him out to play, he would go on drawing in the dust under trees. One of his favorite models was his younger sister, Lola.

Don Jose, Pablo's father, was the director of the museum at Malaga in Spain. He earned only a small salary but there wasn't much work and he was able to practice his hobby, which was painting pigeons and other birds. He knew a lot about the technique of painting and he taught it all to Pablo. Pablo is known for co-founding the Cubist movement.

Life in Malaga was very pleasant. In the hot sunshine, father and son used to walk down to the sea to look at the boats at the seaside or go round the open markets. They looked a strange pair. Don Jose was tall and thin with red hair and beard and sad grey eyes. He was also shy and quiet. Pablo was the opposite, like his mother, he was short and a little fat. He had very black hair and
